By SPENCE HELD

Ike's condition was the No. 1 topic of conversation in Ocean Beach Tuesday . . . People were genuinely distressed by the news and wondered just how serious his condition was.

Today, Thanksgiving Day, we will have something special to be thankful for if it looks like the President is going to be O.K.

Bert Roberts, manager of the Silver Spray Motel, said Monday that 10 foreign countries plus Alaska and Puerto Rico were represented by his current crop of guests.

Incidentally, Roberts has donated 1000 OCEAN BEACH bumper stickers to the O. B. Chamber of Commerce for distribution to local merchants and residents.

Sidewalk scene at dusk: Elderly black-clad woman emerges from store with black poodle which is carrying package of meat or something in his mouth . . . They get into station wagon and drive away while reporter stares, fascinated.

According to the letter, this 6'3" specimen with dark wavy hair goes out with girls but hasn't got the nerve to kiss one . . . "Am I normal?" he asked.

The oracle answered: "Before you learned how to complete a pass you fumbled around a little, didn't you? What you need is experience. If 11 men don't kill you—one girl won't. Face it!"

Well, Abigail, I've got news for you. A tackle, left or right, doesn't "complete a pass." A tackle is a rugged character who plays in the line—he blocks and tackles but doesn't throw or catch.

Catch?

Dr. Edward Teller, U. C. atomic expert—"Russian teenagers think about scientists much in the same way our young people think and dream about becoming movie stars."

You know what the Commies lack?

Breitbard Plans Sports Contest For Newspapers

The Breitbard Athletic Foundation announced that it will present both a perpetual and permanent award each year to the San Diego County newspapers judged to have been outstanding in their promotion of athletic programs.

"The purpose of this award," said F. W. Whitney, Breitbard Foundation managing director, "is to encourage newspaper interest in going beyond the reporting of athletic news and assuming a dynamic responsibility for advancing or creating wholesome, worthwhile athletic programs that benefit the entire community in the fields of recreation, good health and civic development."

The first award in the Breitard contest will be made on the basis of 1957 entries, which will be judged early in May of next year. The annual Press Awards Banquet is conducted the latter part of May.

Other contests for which awards are given annually are: Community Service, Best News Story, Best Editorial, and Youth Service.

The Peninsula News placed first among S. D. County weekly newspapers for community service during 1954. This was for its successful campaign against the proposed Point Loma sewage disposal plant and ocean outfall.

Toys For Tots Drive To Start

The Lomanettes of Point Loma High School, who have taken part in the annual Toys for Tots drive during the past few years, will hold their 1957 drive Dec. 2-6.

They will collect toys at school and in their neighborhoods all next week, it was announced. They will be identified by name tags and large decorated shopping bags.

After the drive the toys will be picked up by the Marines to be distributed.

WHIRLER—This centrifuge will be used at the new Convair (Astronautics) Division of General Dynamics Corp. plant here to test components of the Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile. The streamlined compartment in the foreground carries items to be tested. The machine can whirl a one-ton load at 121 revolutions per minute.

Centrifuge Installed At Plant

A huge centrifuge that can exert a force equal to 100 times the pull of gravity on test components of the Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile has been installed at the new Convair-Astronautics plant.

One of the most powerful machines of its type in this country, the equipment was designed and built by the Rucker Company of Oakland, Calif., to specifications established by Convair Division of General Dynamics Corporation.

The centrifuge is one of many devices used to test ICBM components by subjecting them to extremes of stress, vibration and temperature.

The machine is designed to whirl objects weighing up to 2,000 pounds at 121 revolutions a minute at the end of a 20-foot boom. Translated into ev-day terms, the kinetic energy developed is enough to loft a golf ball from San Diego over New York City and about 700 miles out into the Atlantic.

At full speed, the items under test are traveling about 170 miles an hour.

The machine also is designed to subject test components to extremes of temperature and acceleration simultaneously. Temperatures ranging from 100 degrees below zero to 350 degrees above can be created in the missile-shaped test compartment at the end of the boom.

Testing a third missile environmental factor—vibration—will be possible later with the addition of a shaker mechanism.

R. S. Campbell, chief of Convair-Astronautics test laboratories, said the one-ton capacity will accommodate vibration mechanisms and still handle any component Convair-Astronautics might want to test.

Components are bolted into the sharp-nosed steel test capsule. The compartment is three feet long and two feet in diameter. Oversize components are handled by dismounting the carrier and attaching them directly to the end of the boom.

The center of the test compartment is 20 feet from the boom axis. At the opposite end of the ten-ton boom, weights are added to balance the mass of the object being tested.

The device is driven by three hydraulic motors that develop 120 horsepower each. The three motors have a combined capacity for 125 gallons of fluid a minute under 5,000-pound pressure. The hydraluic pumps are driven by three electric motors developing a total of 400 horsepower.

The hydraulic motors also act as brakes by reversing fluid flow. In addition, the device has a powerful emergency airbrake.

The centrifuge is mounted in a deep concrete-lined pit. The top of the boom is about two feet below the pit rim. A safety railing surrounds the pit, and all doors to the building are interlocked with the operating machinery so they cannot be opened from the outside while the boom is rotating.

In one of the first test, the machine accelerated to 104 revolutions per minutes in 143 seconds, and braked from 107 rpm to a stop in 78 seconds.

United Fund Hits $14,953 In Peninsula Area

Results from United Fund house to house campaigning throughout the county today maintained its upward surge, drive leaders reported.

Underway since November 4, the residential division has reached $159,626 or 50.5 per cent of a $315,800 quota.

The giving trend in the Ocean Beach-Point Loma area has continued with campaigners here reporting $14,953 or 62.7 per cent of a $23,836 quota, Mrs. James Marlow announced.

All drive volunteers were urged to redouble their efforts and make call-backs where they were not able to contact their prospect.

Meanwhile, the over-all drive for $4,250,000 has reached $2,033,236 or 47.8 per cent of the goal needed to provide operating funds for almost 100 health, welfare and guidance services.

2 Yule Contests Are Announced

Entries are being taken for the Christmas Home Decoration Contest and the 1957 Poinsettia Sweepstakes, it was announced this week by the S. D. Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Decorations must be outdoors and lighted. Entry blanks may be obtained at the Jr. Chamber, 947 Columbia, or will be mailed upon request. Dec. 16 is the deadline for entries.

Entries close Dec. 10 for the Poinsettia Sweepstakes. Mail card or letter to Jr .Chamber, listing name, address and phone number and category to be entered. (Judging will be in three categories—tallest plant, most prolific—most number of blooms; and largest single bloom.)

For additional information call Don Hartley, BE-4-4197.

Tricycle Missing

There's a little girl on Cape May Ave. who was happy riding her tricycle up and down the sidewalk all day.

Ann Marie Puliafico, 3, of 4891 Cape May, has been brokenhearted since her trike disappeared last weekend, according to her mother, Mrs. Fred Puliafico.

"We noticed it was gone Saturday morning," she reported.

The tricycle is green, with red handle grips and thick black oversized wheels. It has a little red horn, red reflector lights, and a small wire basket in front.

Have you seen it?

O. B. LITTLE LEAGUE

The second general meeting of the Ocean Beach Little League will be held Monday, Dec. 9 at 7:30 p.m. in the Ocean Beach Community Center.

Curt Kindig, president, will report on progress to date. Future plans will be discussed and suggestions will be welcomed. Everyone interested in having a Little League in the Ocean Beach area is urgently requested to attend.

The Little League Ladies Auxiliary will have a brief meeting immediately following the general meeting.

The missile test stand in the background was completed in 1956, that in the foreground this year. Building at lower left is blockhouse and remote control center. Captive tests of the ICBM's complex systems and sub-systems are conducted here, the tests often culminating in a brief firing of the rocket engines.

California Western University To Present Community Christmas Program At Dana

California Western Unversity will offer a 90-minute Community Christmas Program of symphony music, carols and opera selections on two nights, Wednesday, Dec. 11 and Friday, Dec. 13, both at Dana Junior High School, Dr. William C. Rust, president, announced.

A 25-man symphony orchestra, a 46-voice choir and four soloists who will sing portions of the opera "Hansel and Gretel" will participate in the program, Rust said.

The Dec. 11 performance will be an invitational affair with underprivileged children, elderly people from homes for the aged, servicemen and music students from all parts of the city attending as guests of California Western University. The Dec. 13 performance is open to the public and a modest admission charge will be made, Rust stated.

Dr. Walter Teutsch of the University Music Department will direct the opera section of the show.

Four sections of Hansel and Gretel will be given in concert style. Soloists are Mildred Lamb, singing Hansel; Elizabeth Wolf, Gretel; Pauline Kouns, the witch, and Clifford Simmons, the role of the childrens father. A chorus of girls' voices will supplement their efforts in a finale.

Dr. Gary White of the University faculty will conduct a 25-piece symphony orchestra which will accompany the soloists and also present as its part of the program the Unfinished Symphony in B Minor by Franz Schubert.

The final portion of the show will be the singing of traditional Cristmas carols and holiday hymns by a mixed chorus of 46 voices, the University Choir, under direction of Dr. Teutsch.

Dr. Uriel Ittenberg, also of the Music Department, will assist Drs. Teutsch and White in the conducting, directing and staging of the show.

Rust said that rehearsals of each phase of the program have begun. Dress rehearsal will be held in the Dana auditorium on the evening of Dec. 10.

Information on tickets sales will be announced soon, Rust concluded.

PeninsulaAnglers Haul In Yellows

With still no signs of a letdown, yellowtail and bonito fishing at the Coronado Islands and Rock Pile continued at a lively pace early this week.

Single boats checked in catches of 40 to 70 yellows and considerably more bonito, and numerous individual limits of yellows were boated.

Among top individual performers were Ray Selk, Ocean Beach, and J. L. Roberts, Marlin Inn, both with limits of 10 yellows and a few bonito on the side.

Bottom fishing also gained followers during the week as sport boats checked in consistently heavy catches of red cod and ling. One of the largest lings taken during the week was a 22 pound 5 ounce ling bagged by C. R. Jefferson, San Diego.

PARKY LOSES PATIENCE

PARKY, THE TIDY KANGAROO, is a friendly fellow, and patient too, but his patience with litterbugs is running out. Perhaps, Parky thinks, the time has come to bear down on the scenery spoilers—to ticket and fine them when they are seen littering highways, beaches and parks. "Most people help to keep California beautiful," Parky says. "It's too bad we must use the law to make some folks understand that their litter belongs in trash cans, not on the roadsides."

AD-VOCATES

For Thanksgiving:

Let's "carve" out sincere kindness and serve it promptly and orally throughout the day.

Let's "feast" on our thankfulness for love, loyalty, patience, thoughtfulness and generosity so that our day will be "full" of peace and quiet and contentment.

They say if you do a thing ten times it becomes a habit.

Who knows? This day could open that door where all our dreams are stored.

AD-VENTURES

An argument is all right if it clears the air and if the subject can be kept on the present without dragging up the past . . . You can't change other people, just yourself—and the only thing you can change in yourself is your attitude . . . It's a wise man who can discipline himself until he can respond with kindness to his deepest prejudice . . . Man has no faculties for forgetting, only remembering . . . Laughter is one of the best reactions we can insist on when we are dealing with ourselves.

HEARD AND LIKED

"The best way to lose enthusiasm for life, zest for living, is to take everything for granted instead of gratitude."

LIBLETS

A safe robber is just as dangerous as the other kind . . . Jack Thompson says about the scarcest thing he knows of is a two-tone British car . . . That pain in your back may have had its start in your head (psychoneurosis to you, Bub!) . . . Life doesn't begin at 40 for those who do 80 when they are 20 . . . One never becomes too old to learn some new way to be foolish.

TURN ABOUT

Gnivigsknaht doesn't make much sense to anyone. (Neither do a lot of things we do and say.) But turn it around and you have—THANKSGIVING!

AD-VANCES

"Aw," said the car owner. "I usually begin by telling 'em I'm lonely."

Try This Old-Fashioned Thanksgiving Turkey

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

FIRST you select the best turkey you can find. Then you look for the best way to roast it. That's the American Thanksgiving formula.

Here is a recipe for old-fashioned roast turkey that is one of the most satisfactory.

Old-Fashioned Roast Turkey (Allow ½ to ¾ pound per person)

Twelve to 15-pound turkey, 1 tablespoon salt, 1 tablespoon paprika, 2 tablespoons bacon fat, 1 teaspoon garlic salt, ½ teaspoon pepper.

Singe turkey while dry and remove all pin feathers. Clean inside and out. Wash and dry. Sprinkle inside and out with salt and pepper. Fill with your favorite stuffing. Sew up or close with skewers; neck cavity may be filled with stuffing if desired.

Fold wing tip up and under back. (Never stuff turkey tightly. Allow for expansion.)

Rub turkey with bacon fat, salt, pepper, paprika and garlic salt. Cover with a clean white cloth which has been dipped in melted fat or milk. Cover well.

Roast slowly uncovered, making sure cloth stays damp at oven temperature (300 degrees F.). Allow 20 minutes for each pound. Baste from time to time with drippings, turning turkey completely to brown on all sides. Cloth may be removed during the last half hour, so the skin will be brown and crisp.

Add zest to your gobbler this year by garnishing with raw cranberry relish. Fruit and chopped nuts are used.

Boil giblets and neck with celery tops, onions and seasonings to make gravy.

Cranberry Nut Relish

Four cups cranberries, 1 orange, quartered and seeded; 1 lemon, quartered and seeded; ½ cup seedless raisins, 1½ cups sugar, ½ cup chopped walnuts.

Put cranberries, fruit and raisins through food chopper, using coarse blade. Mix in sugar. Let stand in refrigerator an hour or so to blend flavors. Just before serving, stir in chopped nuts.

Just Pull String and, Presto, a Christmas Bow!

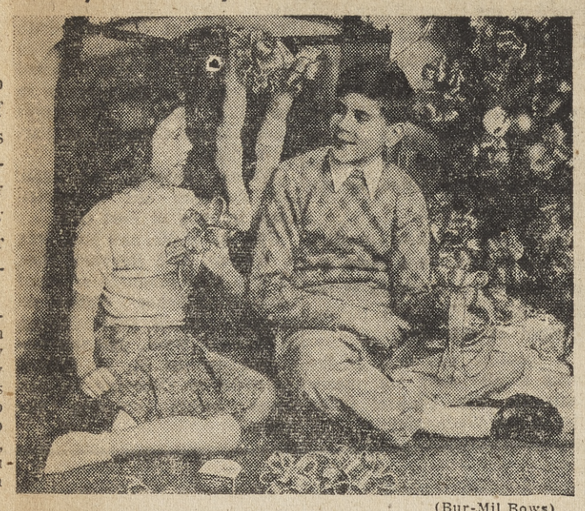
BY EDNA MILES

FUMBLE - FINGERS who shudder at the thought of wrapping Christmas gifts are the rule, not the exception. Few of us are really handy at tying a frilly bow and most of us hand over gifts that have an unmistakably home-wrapped look.

Knowing this, one firm has developed a Christmas gift ribbon which is transformed into a bow in a matter of seconds by simply pulling a string. The secret lies in tiny draw strings woven into the ribbon. You simply grasp strings at each end of the ribbon, after cutting the length you want, and pull. The result is a fluffy, sparkling rosette bow.

Snip off all but six inches of string. This is used to attach the bow to ribbon on package.

Undoubtedly, it's the easiest and fastest method of bow-making known. The ribbon comes in red, green, silver and gold to be matched or contrasted to the paper wrapping of the package. Both satin and woven-edged tinsel chiffon are used for the ribbon.



(Bur-Mil Bows)

These youngsters can now tie Christmas gift bows with the best of them. They just have to pull the string.

Formed At CWU Circle K Club

Officers of the new Circle K Club of California Western University, sponsored jointly by the Ocean Beach and Old San Diego Kiwanis Clubs, were installed at its first official meeting Nov. 14.

They are Dick Caldwell, president; Cal Arnold, vice-president; Chris Craig, corresponding secretary; J. Gene Walker, recording secretary, and Gene De Falco, treasurer.

The new club has 18 members.

A dinner in Wood Hall on the campus preceded the installation and was attended by many Kiwanians, including Harry Hearns, lieutenant-governor of Division 21, and Jim Noel, newly-elected lieutenant-governor.

District Attorney Don Keller spoke at the meeting.

The denomination's membership increased by 121,000 this past year to a total of 9,566,629 This figure includes the denomination's clergymen, but does not include 1,382,207 baptized children listed as preparatory members.

The statistical report shows 39,359 organized churches with 410 of them in Southern California, Southern Nevada, and the state of Arizona. Metropolitan San Diego is served by 27 Methodist churches.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service now has 31,259 local groups. Mrs Dale Truckenmiller of 2757 Nipoma St. is president of the Society in the Point Loma Methodist church. Its members are working through eight fellowship circles.

Mr. Atwood is also chairman of the Television Committee of the Southern California-Arizona Methodist Conference.

COUNTRY PLATTERS

by LES CARROLL

COUNTRY music recordings have come a long way since the days when they were made with just a vocalist accompanying himself on a guitar. Now all the tricks of pop recording are employed: echo chambers, multiple recording, a full band accompaniment and, in many instances, a choral background.

Mac Wiseman's re-recording of two of his more popular numbers, "I'll Still Write Your Name in the Sand" and "'Tis Sweet to Be Remembered," is typical of this change and beautifully handled. And Whitey Knight's "Take Me in Your Arms" and Bob Jennings' "Do You" make full use of this trend, with especially good arranging (All Dot).

Marvin Rainwater teams with Connie Francis on "The Majesty of Love," which should be another big one. And Sheb Wooley's rhythmic and melodious "Recipe for Love" could be one of his biggest hits, and is well backed with "I'm Too Young" (both MGM). Eddie Arnold has a smooth number in "Little Miss Sunbeam," which is very appealing (RCA).

In the novelty line Clyde Beaver's "Crying for My Baby" is outstanding (Mercury) and Bud Deckelman's "I Done Fell Too Fer" is a cutie (MGM). And for old-time singing and picking you can't go wrong with "I Wish You Knew" by the Louvin Bros. (Capitol) and "No Longer a Sweetheart of Mine" by Reno and Smiley (King).

As usual, the girls are doing love ballads and Jean Shepard sings very appealingly "Act Like a Married Man" and "It Scares Me Half to Death" (Capitol) while Skeeter Davis, of the original Davis Sisters team, does well with "He Left His Heart With Me" (RCA). And Helen Carter teams with Wiley Barkdull on a real smoothie, "He Made You for Me" (Hickory).

In the ballad field, Benny Barnes has two very pretty sides in "Your Old Standby" and

"King for a Day" while Jimmie Skinner combats the overseas girl songs with the catching "I Found My Girl in the U.S.A." (both Mercury).

OTHER FINE RELEASES are "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Old-Time Religion" (Stuart Hamblen, RCA); "I'm Nobody's Fool But Yours" (Tommy Collins, Capitol); "Losing Game" (Vernon Taylor, Dot); "Treat Me Nice" (Elvis Presley, RCA); "Love Conquered" (Sonny James, Capitol); "Who'll Dry My Tears" (Gene Davis, King) and "Need Me" (Jimmy Newman, Dot).

Dog Vaccination Clinics Planned Next Wk.--Veterinarians Volunteer

Dog vaccination clinics will be set up on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evening next week where dog owners may have their dogs vaccinated against rabies at a nonprofit cost of $1.

Dr. J. B. Askew, Director of the San Diego Department of Public Health, said yesterday that veterinarians have volunteered their services to make the clinics possible. They will be held from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Dec. 2, 3 and 4 at Children's Day Center, Bayview Terrace, 4600 Calle Breve (at Balboa Ave.); and the City Dog Pound, 1104 Azusa St.

The Dog Pound will also have the same nonprofit dog vaccination service available from 8 a.m. until noon Mondays through Fridays during December.

Vaccination of dogs against rabies is required for 1958 dog licenses by a San Diego city ordinance, Dr. Askew said. The modified live virus vaccine now used in San Diego protects a dog for two years, he said, and dogs that have been vaccinated since Oct. 1, 1956, need not be vaccinated now.

The owner, however, must submit the dog's vaccination certificate which appears on the 1957 dog license receipt when he applies for the 1958 license.

Dogs that have not been vaccinated since Oct. 1, 1956, must be vaccinated now to meet the 1958 license requirement. License applications must be made by Dec. 31. Late applications will draw a penalty fee.

A dog license valid for one year expiring Dec. 31, 1958, may be purchased for a fee of $3 or a license valid for two years expiring Dec. 31, 1959, may be purchased for a fee of $5. Licenses may be purchased at the time of vaccination at any of the public clinics, Dr. Askew said.

He advised dog owners that they could help the lines move more quickly by having the exact change ready and by going alone with their dogs to the vaccination clinics.

Dog licenses may also be purchased upon presentation of a dog vaccination certificate at the City Treasurer's Office, Room 162, Civic Center; Pacific Beach branch office, 1349 Garnet St.; or the City Pond, 1104 Azusa St.

HEALTH FOR ALL

With this week we begin the happiest season of the year. It's a time for festivity, yet there is serious meaning beneath it. Beginning with Thanksgiving, through Christmas and New Year's Day, there is a feeling of grateful rejoicing and rededication to our highest ideals. We show this feeling by our observance of holiday traditions.

One of these traditions is the Christmas Seals we buy as our contribution to the fight against tuberculosis. We buy them in spirit of thankfulness for the great progress that has been made against TB, and also in the spirit of dedication to the eventful defeat of this disease.

Fifty years ago when the first Christmas Seals were sold, it seemed almost impossible that TB could ever be defeated. The little money that was raised seemed like a drop in the bucket compared wtih the terrible cost of the disease, not only in money, but in human suffering and lives lost.

Those first Seals were sold with the aim of raising money to keep one small TB hospital going through the winter. Today Christmas Seals are sold to finance a nationwide program of education, case finding, rehabilitation, and research. We know that TB can be controlled, not in the immediate future, of course. But we can foresee the end if the control program is carried out to the fullest.

Only one thing can defeat this purpose—self-satisfaction with the progress achieved so-far. We cannot relax our efforts with success in sight. No home is safe from TB until all are safe.

Teacher Recruitment & Training Program Continues 4 More Years

The teacher recruitment and training program of the city schools will be continued for another four-year period, according to Dr. Ralph Dailard, superintendent of schools.

The program, under which teacher interns are recruited and trained for full-time service, was begun in 1954 under joint sponsorship of the city schools and San Diego State College. Added cost of the project was financed by a grant from the Fund for the Advancement of Education.

The decision to continue the program for the next four years was made by the Board of Education, after members heard a report on the success of the program in bringing new teachers into the local system.

The report pointed out that careful selection of local candidates for the intern program has resulted in obtaining teachers who are twice as likely to continue their service for the district as those who are recruited on a nation-wide basis.

Dailard stated that 76 regular teachers with the city schools are former interns, and 48 others are now serving their year of internship in classrooms throughout the city.

Applications for next year are being accepted now from college graduates who have a bachelor's degree in any field other than education. Mrs. Dan Henry, executive secretary for the program, said that preference is given to persons who are residents of the San Diego area.

Those accepted will begin training in February by enrolling for one evening class in education at State College. They will be able to continue in their present employment or activity during this part of the training period.

Next summer the interns will attend a nine-week summer session at the college, earning nine additional credits toward a state teaching credential.

In the fall they will enter city schools' classrooms as intern teachers, with one master teacher supervising the work of every four intern teachers. They will receive three-fourths of a teacher's regular beginning salary during the fall semester, and seven-eighth during the spring session.

After completing a second summer session at State College, they will have qualified for regular teaching credentials and will be offered regular employment in the city schools.

Persons interested in the intern program should apply at the city schools' personnel office in the Education Center. Applicants are screened both by the city schools and State College.

'MIRACLE KITCHEN'—At the press of a button, an illustrated recipe is projected on the wall of the "Miracle Kitchen" which will be a feature attraction a the Elecrical and Home Appliance Show opening Friday, Nov. 29 for a six-day stay at the Electric Bldg., Balboa Park.

Electrical & Home Appliance Show Will Feature 'Miracle Kitchen'

Visitors to the admission-free annual Electrical and Home Appliance Show, which is opening Friday, Nov. 29, for a six-day stay at the Electric Building, Balboa Park, will have the exciting opportunity of previewing the "push-button" kitchen of tomorrow.

In RCA-Whirlpool's "Miracle Kitchen," they will see amazing things almost beyond belief, A self-propelled serving cart will detach itself from an automatic dishwasher and move to a dining table to deliver table service or pick up soiled dishes. A mobile floor cleaner, operating automatically on its own, cleans the kitchen floor. At the wave of a hand, refrigerating equipment and food storage shelves are lowered from wall cabinets to a convenient reach-in level.

From a freestanding planning center, the heart and brains of the "Miracle Kitchen," all these automatic devices plus audio and visual communication are controlled.

In addition there will be many other interest-provoking exhibits at the Show, ranging from a six-foot operating scale model of a steam engine for the kiddies to fascinating demonstrations of transistor operation for the adults. Everyone will be intrigued with the replica of the much-discussed satellite Vanguard project in which the use of solar energy is illustrated.

There will be frequent showing of color telecast reception, many displays of the newest in hi-fi equipment, and a first-time-in-the West exhibit of the latest in telephone equipment and techniques.

And, of course, show visitors will as usual be able to see and compare under one roof all makes of large and small appliances. A number of revolutionary new models and even products will make their public debut at this show, such as a combination portable electric oven and rotisserie, a water-driven dishwasher, and a combination electric can opener and knife sharpener.

Opening night, doors of the Show will open at 6 p.m., immediately following the lighting of "Christmas Tree Lane" ceremonies starting at 5:30 p.m., in which Mayor Dail, the San Diego High School choral group, and Santa Claus will participate. Thereafter, show hours will be from 1 to 10:30 p.m., daily.

Bible Comment:

Obeying God's Law Is Very Essence Of the Civil Order

A CHRISTIAN citizen who practices his religion inevitably influences those about him. His good works and good character are constantly an invitation to others to follow his example. He becomes a leavening power in the community.

In these days when there is so much stress upon mass action, we are in great danger of underestimating the primary importance and power of the individual for social action and betterment.

There may be situations in which men in their loyalty to God and His will must renounce the social order—the state. But the good Christian will wish to serve and help the state which is the recognized instrument of society in every way which is in accordance with right.

St. Paul lays great stress on this in his epistle to the Romans dealing with the Christian's civil duties. Here again, however, what Paul says is subject to the limitations of other passages in which he outlines the Christian's duties to God—his primary obligations.

Paul's insistence that we should do good and not evil means that it is the law of God we should obey if rulers or anyone else should command us to do evil.

It ought to be noted that when Paul says, "Honor the king," he first says, "Honor all men; love the brotherhood; fear God."

There is not so much danger of the Christian falling into any unworthy subservience to rulers if he is first of all obeying these major injunctions. For, when we honor all men, love brotherhood and fear God, we are expressing the very essence of democracy and we are manifesting the basic requirements of good social order.

REAL LIFE HERO

What with the bottoms of our television sets simply littered with dead cowboys and Indians these days, we may be a little blase about the derring do of the real life heroes of our history.

Back in 1882, however, New Mexico had a deputy sheriff who wouldn't need to tip his hat to any of the heroes who gallop around nightly on our magic screens.

His name, according to the National Automobile Club, was Elfego Baca and his territory was the town of Reserve. One day he arrested a troublesome cowboy and the cowboy's friends decided to come to his rescue. Elfego got out his shootin' irons and held off a mob of 80 men for over 30 hours before the cavalry rode up and helped him save the day.

Do the wheels creak when the car turns a corner? It may be a loose bolt, points out the National Automobile Club. Loose bolts permit the wheel to wobble ,and wheel wobble is the cause of one of the most rapid forms of tire wear.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON-SERMON

The Lesson-Sermon in the Christian Science churches on Sunday contrasts strongly the difference between spiritual healing and spiritual mindedness and all forms of suggestion or hypnotism. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced."

The Apostle Luke records that Jesus once healed a man of dumbness. Some who witnessed the healing said, "He casteth out devils through Beelzebub." In refutation Jesus reasoned, "Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolution; . . . If Satan also be divided against himself, how shall his kingdom stand? . . . But if I with the finger of God cast out devils, no doubt the kingdom of God is come upon you" (11:15, 17, 18, 20).

In a correlative reference Mary Baker Eddy is quoted from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures: "Jesus cast out evil and healed the sick. not only without drugs but without hypnotism, which is the reverse of ethical and patholgical Truth-power" (p. 185).

The Golden Text of the sermon is taken from Paul's letter to the Romans, "If God be for us, who can be against us?" (8:31)
